

SEE WHY EDUCATORS ACROSS THE NATION ARE MAKING THE SWITCH

THE BETTER SOLUTION FOR STATE UNIVERSITIES

We know the problem. We've seen the maze of constituents you have to consider: your users of office supplies who want free reign; your accounting department who wants an invoice presented in a specific way; your VFO who wants lowest cost; your IT department who wants seamless electronic interface; your receiving personnel who want the deliveries to arrive at their preferred time with clearly displayed user information. You're squeezed between the requirements of your constituents and your national supplier saying no to those needs.

Lets Learn Together

We want office supplies to be an effortless part of your day. So we've made service into an art form. Our business model embraces the details.

We know the education industry because it is our only industry.

Working with you to service your unique needs is our speciality. Anything else is, well, pointless.
